How to Choose the Best E Cigarette

There are several varieties and styles of e cigarette out there, designed more or less to help the broadest cross section of smokers kick the tobacco habit and start getting their nicotine a little more healthily than they used to. While the basic layout of the electronic cigarette doesn't really change from device to device, there are different ways to choose a healthier smoke. Here's a few:

1: You can pick the type of delivery device you use. Are you going to choose a "Torpedo" (an e cigarette that looks like a lipstick); a mini electronic cigarette (which is about the same size, shape and weight as a real cigarette); or a full sized e cigarette? You can also choose a pen style device, which looks a bit like a pregnancy testing kit. The look you choose for your device says a lot about who you are and why you are switching to the electric version. The mini e cigarette, for example, is perfect for people who really liked smoking but have faced up to the fact that it is really bad for you. While the pregnancy kit-looking thing is great for people who want to make it clear that they are undertaking a medical quitting programme.

2: You can choose flavours of cartridge for your electronic cigarette. You can even (again perfect for the unregenerate smoker who just wants to smoke for the rest of his or her life but no longer likes the idea of dying young) buy E Liquid cartridges made to taste like tobacco smoke. True story: the liquid is flavoured with genuine tobacco extracts, so you really are getting every single benefit of a tobacco cigarette with none of the drawbacks. More adventurous palates (and people who have realised that tobacco smoke tastes like ass) can opt for e cigarette cartridges flavoured with fruits, floral notes, mint: all sorts of great tastes for an adventurous type!

3: The packaging your electronic cigarette comes in can be very helpful when defining your style as a smoker of non tobacco cigarettes. Again, you can opt for looks that very strongly denote who you are and why you are smoking the electric cigarette instead of the real thing. Funky coloured packs make for great conversation starters on a night out; while the non nonsense black pack favoured by the smoker who only quit because he didn't want to die, makes the "I still love my nicotine" point loud and clear! The marketing is good across the board here, with packs that have useful add ons (like torches in the bottom) giving you more ways to choose the e cigarettes that fit best with your sense of who you are.

4: Size is important, no matter what they tell you... Buy a larger electronic cigarette and you will get a longer battery life, which can be very useful for the forgetful nicotine addict. If you omit to take your charging leads with you when you go to work you could be looking at a run out battery, and that is one step away from going out to buy some tobacco cigarettes until you can get home and charge your battery again. The larger the e cigarettes, the bigger the battery and therefore the more power they can hold between charges. That said, of course, the bigger the electronic cigarette the less it looks or feels like a real one. Pick the size that works best for you.
